FOREWORD

I hope each member of the family will obtain a copy of this Family History and after careful examination will report any errors I have made either by omission or commission. I am aware of its imperfections, but I am afraid that it is the best I could elicit from the various branches of the family after the expenditure of much time and effort. Due to apathy or indifference many of my letters were unanswered and there were several lines for which I could find no leads.

I feel forced to publish what I have because I find the information contained herein too valuable to be withheld from the family, but I am painfully aware of its incompleteness. In the future I hope to produce a more complete edition, but not until I am sure the necessary corrections are made.

It is impossible to thank adequately the many family members who offered assistance, but there are several who did more than their share of the work. They are Barbara Sims of Richmond, Margaret Podlewski of Newport News, Clementine Bowman of Gloucester, Constance Wiatt of Newport News, Louise Loughridge of Newport News, Catesby Jones of Gloucester and William H. Wiatt of Bloomington, Indiana.

Fraternally yours,

EARLY WYATT - WIATT FAMILIES

The Wiatt family of Virginia is descended from the Wyatts of Kent County, England who were descendants of an ancient English family of Norman-French origin.

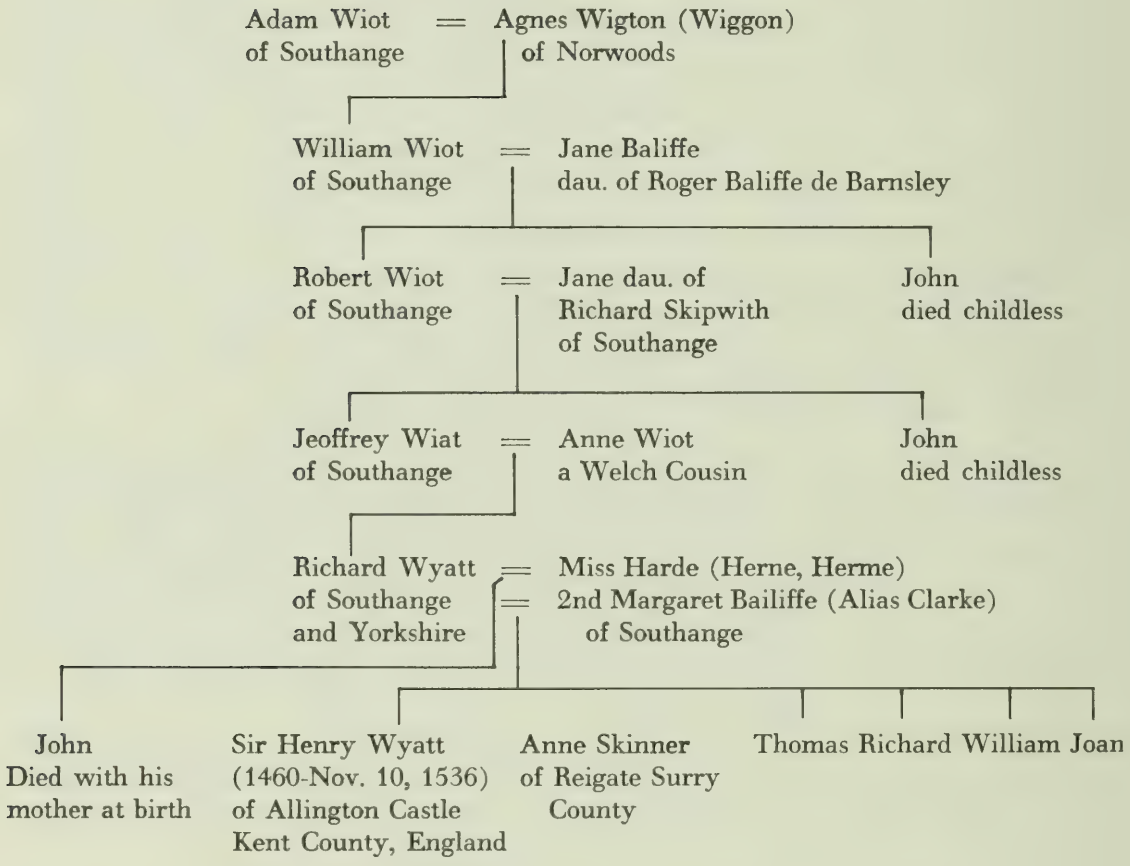
The first prominent member of the family was Sir Henry Wyatt, born about 1460. It is doubtful whether a family history was compiled during his lifetime because when he applied for a new grant of Arms in January 1507/08 the grant by Wriothesley (Garter King-of-Arms) was made on grounds, simply, that he "descended of the house blood and name of the Wyatts." It must also be noted that Sir Henry Wyatt was, at the time, Privy Councillor to King Henry VII and as such may not have been required to produce a pedigree any more than would his acquaintances Wolsey and Thomas Cromwell, when they applied for Armorial Bearing which they had not inherited. It is still unlikely that Sir Henry Wyatt had a compiled genealogy because in the 1530 heraldic visitation of Kent there was no reference to his ancestors, a somewhat unusual omission for a man of his position.

It was not until the Visition of 1619 that a Wyatt family pedigree was recorded. It was compiled in 1578 by Roger Twysden, who married Anne, daughter of Sir Thomas Wyatt the younger and Jane Haute, his wife. The pedigree of Sir Henry Wyatt by Twysden is shown below, from Adam Wyot, who lived in the mid 14th century, to Sir Henry Wyatt, born about 1460 and died November 10, 1536.

It is believed that the name was originally the Norman-French name Guyott, which was Anglicized to Wiot or Wyat and to Wiat or Wyat, and finally to the present form of Wyatt and Wiatt.

Before going on to Roger Twysden's Wyatt Pedigree, it seems appropriate to mention a little of the ancient Wyatt family history. It is believed that William the Conqueror had with him, when he invaded England in 1066, Adam Guyott (Wiot). This Guyott was captain of one of the ships and husband of one of the daughters of William the Conqueror. After the conquest, William I is believed to have awarded Adam Guyott most of Yorkshire, which made him quite wealthy. Adam Guyott is also believed to have been the great grandfather of our mid 14th century Adam Wiot of Southange.

THE ANCIENT WIATT FAMILY



SIR HENRY WYATT

Sir Henry Wyatt of Yorkshire was born about 1460 and died November 10, 1536 at Allington Castle, Kent County, England. He married Anne, daughter of John Skinner of Surrey. It is said by historians that he was the most beloved man in England in his day. Henry attended college with Henry Tudor (later King Henry VII) at Eton. At this time Richard III was on the throne and was very uneasy about that fact that Henry Tudor, the legal heir, could claim the crown. Richard III did not want Sir Henry Wyatt, a man of wealth and influence, to be on such friendly terms with Henry Tudor. The King was afraid to kill Sir Henry outright, but he did have Sir Henry Wyatt imprisoned for two years in a tower in Scotland. It is said that Sir Henry was even required to wear instruments of torture called barnacles while imprisoned. According to his son, Sir Henry was racked in the presence of King Richard himself. Once he was imprisoned in a cold and narrow tower where he was given neither enough clothes to keep him warm nor enough food. He would have starved there had it not been for a cat named Acater that came almost every day with a pigeon for him to eat.

Upon the death of Richard III on Bosworth Field, Henry Tudor ascended the throne and freed and knighted Sir Henry Wyatt. On the day of his coronation, King Henry VII granted Sir Henry his coat of arms as Knight Banneret. Henry VII bestowed lands and estates on Sir Henry until his was one of the wealthiest of the Tudor families. Henry VII did this in appreciation for the suffering of Sir Henry while in prison. The King also made him guardian of his son Henry (later Henry VIII) and executor of his estate. Sir Henry was admitted to the Privy Council by Henry VIII in April 1509 and became Knight of the Bath May 23, 1509. He was in the Vanguard at the Battle of the Spurs, August 16, 1513 and accompanied King Henry VIII to the Field of Cloth and Gold in 1520.

In 1485 Sir Henry was appointed Yeoman Assistant to Sir William Tyler, the Master of the King's Jewels and Plate; two years later he was promoted to Clerk of Jewels, and after the death of Tyler in 1490, Sir Henry succeeded him as Master. Soon thereafter he was also appointed Treasurer of the King's Chamber, and the two positions combined made him active and influential in financial matters. He remained Master of the Jewels for thirty-four years, resigning in 1524. He retained the position of Treasurer of the King's Chamber until 1528.

In 1492 Sir Henry purchased the Castle and Estate of Allington in Kent County. Sir Henry Wyatt was buried at Milton near Gravesend, England as requested in his will. Anne Skinner and Sir Henry Wyatt had three children:

1. Thomas (mentioned later),
2. Margaret, who married Sir Anthony Lee of Quarendon, and
3. Henry, who died in infancy (Some believe Henry lived to adulthood in Essex).

ALLINGTON CASTLE

The ancestral home of the Wyatt family is Allington Castle, located in Kent County five miles from the city of Maidstone. It stands on the bank of the Medway River and is surrounded by a moat.

The site seems to have been inhabited since the Stone Age. The inhabitants lived in pile-dwellings by the river. Later the Celts built a village with a moat, on the same site. According to Lord Conway, a 1905 owner, many stone implements of the period have been found within the precincts of this village. The Romans converted the village into an armed encampment. Some of their burial grounds with characteristic pottery, have been located in the area.

The first stone castle seems to have been built during the reign of King Stephen by Sir William of Warenne. Evidently he went too far, fortifying the building without the King's permission. In 1174 King Henry II gave orders for it to be completely demolished. Although this was done very effectively, traces can still be identified. They include part of the old Norman Wall on the east side of the main Gateway, on the west side with its great depth, and the strong wall on the north side.

A few years later an unfortified manor house was built there. The last occupant was the son of Longchamp, Chief Justice of England, who had charge of England in the absence of King Richard I during the Crusades in the Holy Land.

In 1282 King Edward I gave permission to Sir Stephen of Penchester, warden of the Cinque Ports, to reconstruct the castle and fortify it. A copy of the King's Seal may still be seen in the Stone Wall.

Stephen's daughter, a young lady of great charm and handsome dowry, married Lord Cobham. They and their descendants lived in the castle for two generations and left it in ruins.

In 1492 the castle was purchased by Sir Henry Wyatt. He restored it thoroughly and made many additions. There is still a Royal Room and in his day Sir Henry received as visitors Henry VII, Henry VIII, Anne Boleyn, Catherine Parr, Cardinal Wolsey and Thomas Cromwell, as well as other notable personages. It is also said that Sir Henry brought brown pigeons to the castle from Venice. This may have to do with a bitter memory of imprisonment in the tower and the fact that when he was without food and near starvation, a cat is supposed to have brought him a pigeon nearly every day. In England today, these brown pigeons are found only at Allington.

Sir Henry Wyatt spent the greater part of his life at Allington Castle. His grandson, Sir Thomas the younger, led Wyatt's Rebellion against Queen Mary from Allington. The Rebellion was a failure and Sir Thomas was executed (April 11, 1554) for conspiracy against the Crown. The property was then confiscated and sadly neglected.

Early in the 17th century the castle was given to Sir John Ashley by Queen Elizabeth. During the 17th and 18th centuries it was rented to a recusant family named Best. By 1884 the property was transferred by Lord Ashley to Lord Romney, a Wyatt descendant. In 1905 Sir Martin Conway purchased the property and spent 25 years restoring it. The castle was inherited by his daughter, who sold it to the Carmelite Order of the Catholic Church, its present owners.

SIR THOMAS WYATT, THE POET

Sir Thomas Wyatt, first son of Sir Henry Wyatt and Anne Skinner was born ca. 1503 and died October 11, 1542. He was undoubtedly the leader and acknowledged master of the "Company of Courtly Makers" who during the reign of Henry VII, under the Italian influence, transformed the character of English poetry.

He was very active in the political life of the times and held various posts at home and abroad, including appointment twice as Henry VIII's ambassador to the Holy Roman Emperor, Charles V.

Sir Thomas was constantly employed in Henry VIII's service and apparently in high favor. However, he was imprisoned in the Tower of London in 1536, for a short time in connection with an alleged affair with Anne Boleyn prior to her marriage to Henry VIII. Sir Thomas was released in the fall of that year. Easter Day, March 1535 he was knighted at Westminster by Henry VIII. In 1541 he was again imprisoned in the Tower on charges of treason, but was released in a few months.

Sir Thomas Wyatt the poet married, ca. 1520, Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Brooke, Lord Cobham. They had several children but only two are known to have lived to maturity.

1. Sir Thomas (born 1520/21, died 1554)
2. Frances (born 1521/22, died July 16, 1578), married first Thomas Lighe; married second William Patryckson.

SIR THOMAS WYATT, THE YOUNGER

Sir Thomas Wyatt, the younger, was born ca. 1520/21 at Allington Castle, which he inherited from his father in 1542. Sir Thomas had a reputation for recklessness and was imprisoned in 1543 for a week or two for taking part with Henry Howard, Earl of Surry, in a street riot. In the spring of 1543, King Henry VIII had allied himself with Charles V and declared war against France. In the autumn of 1543 Sir Thomas was a volunteer in the fight at Landrecies and was commended by Thomas Howard, Duke of Norfolk, for his gallant behavior. The following year he was given a responsible command at the siege and capture of Boulogne. Thereafter he went abroad and travelled extensively in Germany, France, Italy and Switzerland, acquiring a knowledge of military matters and recognition as a skillful and daring captain. The date of his return is uncertain, but in the autumn of 1549 he submitted to protector Somerset's Council, a timely project for a selective militia to provide a safeguard against civil disturbances. Sir Thomas seems to have used his position as Sheriff of Kent in 1551 to create a rudimentary organization on his own initiative. After the death of Edward VI, Sir Thomas Wyatt the younger supported Mary I and proclaimed her at Rochester. By the end of the year, rumors of the proposed marriage between Mary and the future King Phillip II of Spain forced Sir Thomas into an extensive conspiracy. He looked upon such a marriage as being likely to bring England under the dominance of Spain and therefore be disastrous to his country. Sir Thomas felt it his responsibility to prevent this marriage.

It was originally planned that Henry Grey, Duke of Suffolk, Sir James Crofts on the Welsh Marshes, Sir Thomas Wyatt in Kent, and Edward Courtenay, Earl of Devon, and Sir Peter Carew in the Southwest would raise their friends and dependents. The plot was discovered and forced into premature action in January 1554, with the result that Carew did not show, Devon turned informer, and Suffolk and Crofts were able to make only feeble gestures. Sir Thomas summoned a meeting of his friends at Allington, and the 25th of January was fixed for the rising. Sir Thomas and some 4,000 men marched on London and on the 26th occupied Rochester and issued a proclamation to the county. Lord Abergavenny and Sir Robert Southwell, the Sheriff of Kent, were deserted by their men who either disbanded or went over to Sir Thomas. A detachment of London trainbands, sent against him by Queen Mary under the command of the Duke of Norfolk, followed their example. The rising seemed such a critical situation to the Queen that a deputation was sent to Sir Thomas asking his terms. He insisted that the Tower should be surrendered to him, and that the Queen should be put in his charge. The insolence of these demands caused Queen Mary to proceed to Guildhall and to address the citizens of London on February 1, 1554 on the need of meeting the demands. Sir Thomas was proclaimed a traitor and more than 20,000 men signed up for the protection of the city. Special precautions were taken for the security of the city. Special precautions were taken for the security of the court and Tower; many bridges across the Thames River within a distance of 15 miles were torn down. On February 3rd a reward of land of the annual value of 100 pounds was offered for the capture of Sir Thomas Wyatt. When he reached Southwark on February 3, 1554, he found London Bridge occupied in force. He was unable to penetrate into the city. Sir Thomas was driven from Southwark by the threats of Sir John Brydges, later Lord Chandos, Lieutenant of the Tower.

Sir Thomas then marched up the river to Kingston, where he crossed the Thames and made his way to Ludgate with part of his followers. Some of his men were cut off, others lost heart and deserted. His only hope was that a rising would take place within the city, but the royal forces kept order, and after attempting to force the gate, Sir Thomas surrendered. He was brought to trial on March 15 and could make no defense. His execution was delayed in hope that in order to save his life he would compromise the Queen's half sister, Princess Elizabeth. He was executed on April 11, 1554 and on the scaffold expressly cleared the princess of all complicity in the rising. The next day his head was hung on the gallows at Haymarket beside Hyde Park, but it was stolen on April 17 and never recovered.

Sir Thomas Wyatt the younger, married Jane, daughter of Sir William Haute (Hawte) of Bishopsbourne and Wavering. Sir Thomas and Jane Haute Wiatt had a large family, only four of whom lived to maturity.

1. Sir George
2. Anna married Roger Twisden de Pickham
3. Frances married Sir Thomas Leigh of Calden
4. Jane married Sir Charles Scott of Egerton
5. Richardus, 6. Carolus, 7. Arthur, 8. Henry
9. Jocosa, 10. Ursula.

SIR GEORGE WYATT

Sir George Wyatt, born 1550, was restored to his estate at Boxley by Queen Elizabeth in 1570. He married Jane, daughter of Sir Thomas Finch of Eastwell, Kent, on October 8, 1582. Between 1590 and his death he devoted most of his efforts to study and writing. His interests included theology, the Military Sciences and history, particularly the history of the English Reformation in which his father and grandfather played such important and hazardous parts. His main project appears to have been a eulogistic biography of Anne Boleyn. He died in Ireland and was buried at Boxley, September 1, 1624.

Sir George and Lady Jane Wyatt had several children:

1. Sir Francis, Royal Governor of Virginia, married Margaret Sandys
2. The Rev. Haute (mentioned later)
3. Henry
4. Thomas
5. George
6. Eleanora who married Sir John Finch.

THE REVEREND HAUTE WIAT

The Rev. Haute Wiat (Wyatt), born about 1594/95 was the second son of Sir George and Lady Jane Wyatt of Boxley Manor. Haute was a student of Gray's Inn and attended Queen's College at Oxford. He was married first in London, February 6, 1618/19, to Elizabeth Mitford of the Mitford Red House family of Kent County, England. He was ordained a minister of the Church of England. He came to Virginia with his brother, Sir Francis, newly appointed Governor, aboard the GEORGE, arriving at Jamestown in October 1621. The Rev. Haute returned to England before the death of his father in 1623/24.

His brother Sir Francis returned in September 1625 to settle the estate of their father.

Elizabeth Mitford Wyatt died on October 31, 1626. Haute, in 1629, married Anne, daughter of John and Anne Lee Cox of Kent. Anne gave birth to two children and died in February 1631 twelve days after the birth of her second child. Both wives are buried at Boxley Abbey in Kent.

The Rev. Haute Wiat served Marston Chapel in 1630 and became Vicar of Boxley in 1632. He lived there with his children until his death of tuberculosis, July 31, 1638. He was buried August 1, 1638 in Boxley Parish.

Haute Wiat's children by Elizabeth Mitford were:

1. George, born about 1619
2. Edward, born about 1621
3. Thomas, born October 16, 1626, died April 10, 1627.

His children by Anne Cox were:

4. John, born ca. 1629/30
5. Anne Katherine, born 1631, married Charles Nicholas Everliegh.

At this point we are presented with the first and least important problem in our Wiatt ancestry. The problem is the order of birth of Haute's sons Edward and George. For reasons which I cannot explain, several genealogists and others have reversed the order of their births from that which I have given above. Yet they seem not to take into account the following facts:

The Rev. Haute Wiat left no will. His mother appeared in the Archdeaconry Court of Canterbury on October 26, 1638 and petitioned for the administration and settlement of her son's estate. At this time she listed The Rev. Haute Wiat's children as: George, age 19, Edward, age 17, John, age 10, and Anne, age 7. Several people believe that she erred and reversed the ages of George and Edward. Not so, George was baptized December 12, 1619 and is listed in the 1632 visitation of Kent as age 12.

Both George and Edward came to America with their uncle, Sir Francis, in 1639 and we know that Edward received a land patent, dated October 29, 1655, on the Piankatank River. The only George in Virginia at the time was a cooper in York County. After the death of Sir Francis Wyatt's grandsons, Francis and Richard, in 1753, his Wyatt line became extinct. When this happened, the descendants of Edward claimed to be the direct heirs of the Boxley estate. This claim by the descendants of Edward Wyatt-Wiatt of Gloucester County, Virginia could be supported only if Edward were the oldest son of Haute; or if George, Edward's older brother, had no living male descendants in 1753 when the claim was made.

The order of birth makes little difference to me; but it does mean something to those who insist on claiming George as their ancestor.

EDWARD WIATT

Edward Wiatt (Wyatt) was born at Boxley, Kent, England about 1621. He apparently came to Virginia when his uncle, Sir Francis Wyatt was sent to serve his second term as Governor of the colony of Virginia in 1639. He was referred to in early records as Edward Wiatt, Gent, and was mentioned April 23, 1646 as administrator of the estate of John Clarke of York County whose widow, Hannah Clarke, he represented in 1652. By September 3, 1663 he had acquired 850 acres at Middle Plantation (Williamsburg), which formerly belonged to John Clarke. On July 20, 1662 "Edward Wiatt, Gent." obtained a patent for 1,230 acres in Gloucester County "upon the Peankatank River" for the transportation of 25 persons. This property confirmed the gift of land in the Piankatank area made to Edward Wiatt October 29, 1655 by Pindavako, the protector of the young King of Chiskoyack Indians. In 1667, with his wife Jane, Edward sold the Clarke tract to George Poindexter and Otto Thorp of Middle Plantation.

The Wiatt Plantation on the Piankatank was named Boxley for the Parish in Kent, England, and was later divided into Old Upton, New Upton, and Oakley.

Edward is believed to have married Jane Conquest (b. ca. 1622 — d. ca. 1698), and they had several children. The birth sequence is not known, but it is known that only Conquest lived to maturity.

1. Conquest (mentioned later)
2. Francis died age 2
3. Haute died age 5
4. Edward died young.

CONQUEST WIATT

Conquest Wiatt (Wyatt) was born about 1652 at Boxley, Gloucester County, Virginia and died about 1708/09 at Upton Plantation in the same county. In 1669 he married Sallie Pate (1652-1750), the daughter of Col. Thomas Pate of Petsworth Parish, Gloucester County. Conquest was heir to his father's lands as a minor in 1672, and he was assigned a patent of 350 acres on Hocaddis Creek, which adjoined the land he inherited from his father. The patent refers to him as "son and heir of Edward Wiatt, deceased of Gloucester County, Virginia" and states that his father had died testate. According to the Tax Poll of 1672, Conquest was largest property holder in Petsworth Parish with 2,200 acres. In 1674/75 his guardian brought suit against Bartholemew Austin concerning a lease let by the Chiskoyack Indians. Conquest served as vestryman of Petsworth Parish, Gloucester from June 1690 until his death circa 1708/09. He was also Sheriff and Justice of the Peace for the County from 1705 until 1709.

Conquest and Sallie Pate Wiatt had several children, at least five of whom lived to adulthood:

1. Francis Wiatt, b. 1670 d. ca. 1730/31,* married Elizabeth Kennon (?)
2. Conquest Wiatt, b. 1672 d. 1745, married first Nancy Sawer; married second Martha Gains
3. James Wiatt, b. 1674 d. 1741, married Grace Newton (Margaret) (?)
4. Edward Wiatt, b. 1677 d. 1744/45 married Frances Newton and
5. John Wiatt, b. 1683 d. 1768, married Elizabeth Buckner.

* Francis' son Francis writes a letter dated May 19, 1732 and mentions his father's death. He also states that his father left him only five pounds.

At this point we come to our second and more difficult genealogical problem. Conquest Wiatt had at least five sons, and I am reasonably sure that at least four of his grandsons were named John. We know our ancestor John Wiatt, Jr. (1732-1805) was a Junior and therefore the son of a John, Sr.; but we do not know for sure that John Sr. was a son of Conquest I. John Sr. may have been a grandson of Conquest I as one family tradition tells us. I wish to point out that our branch of the family still uses the names Conquest and Haute. Up until the year 1900 or so our branch lived only a few miles from the Wiatt estate of Boxley in Gloucester. This, of course, does not prove that we are descendants of the Rev. Haute Wiatt (1594/95-1638) through Edward and Conquest, but the circumstantial evidence is almost overwhelming. I must also add here that family tradition says that John Wiatt, Jr.'s (1732-1805) full name was actually John Edward Wiatt, Jr., but I can find no mention of it in any official record.

The following is an account of the children and grandchildren of Conquest and Sallie Pate Wiatt using all the information that is available today. Unfortunately the records of Gloucester County, Virginia were destroyed during an incendiary fire in 1820 and again during the War Between the States. These disasters make proof of Gloucester families' lineages difficult to establish. Unless new evidence is introduced (Family Bibles, Diaries, Letters, etc.) we will not be able to prove our ancestry past John Wiatt, Jr. (1732-1805).

1. Francis Wiatt (b. ca. 1670, d. 1730/31).* He was the eldest son of Conquest Wiatt and Sallie Pate. Francis was the heir of the Wiatt estate in Petsworth Parish and remained there throughout his life, though he did purchase approximately 3,000 acres of land in Spotsylvania County. He is reported to have married Elizabeth Kennon, but there is also some evidence that his wife called herself Anne.*

The following letters can be found in the British Museum London in Wyatt MSS, loan Collection 15.

* Letter dated November 4, 1732 in which Anne Wyat identifies herself as widow of Francis Wiat, late of Virginia. The letter was written to Francis and Richard Wiat of Kent, England. They were grandsons of Sir Francis Wyatt.

 Letter dated August 23, 1737 from William Wiatt of Virginia to Mr. Francis Wiat of Kent, England. William states that he is son of Francis Wiat of Gloucester. He is 17 years of age. He reports that his elder brother John, who was once at sea, came home a year ago to be with their mother but was recently drowned. In a letter dated August 1, 1739, William says his father left a widow and seven children.

Francis was a Vestryman of Petsworth Parish from February 5, 1714 to 1730/31.

Children:

1. John, drowned, leaving no issue, ca. 1736
2. Francis (b. ca. 1717, *d. 1761) married in 1742 Lucy Rowe
3. William (b. ca. 1720, d. ——) removed to Liverpool, England. Became a merchant and Sea Captain.
4. Edward (b. —— d. ——) Trader of farm produce between the Colonies and the West Indies. Probably not married in 1756.
5. Thomas (b. —— d. ——) married in 1747 Sukey Edmondson, daughter of John Edmondson. Lived in Essex County and Spotsylvania County. He was a successful planter and Justice of the Peace.
6. Ann married John Thurston of Gloucester County. They removed to Spotsylvania County. John died in 1751. Ann and John Thurston claimed 667 acres of land left her by Francis Wiatt in 1745.
7. Elizabeth (b. 1731/32, d. ——). No provision was made for her in her father's will. It appears she was a posthumous child. She married Capt. William Johnson, of Caroline and Spotsylvania Counties, who was at least 35 years older than she. (None of these grandchildren of Conquest Wiatt could be our ancestor.)

2. Conquest Wiatt b. ——, d. 1744/45). He was the second son of Conquest Wiatt and Sallie Pate. Conquest married first Nancy Sawer and second Martha Gains. This is a difficult line to trace. It is believed by some that they had at least three children.

CHILDREN:

1. John (b. ca. 1704, d. ——)
2. Conquest (b. 1735, d. 1815)
3. A daughter who married Richard Royston and was the mother of Richard Wiatt Royston and Conquest Royston.

3. James Wiatt (b. ca. 1683, d. 1741*) James was the third son of Conquest Wiatt and Sallie Pate. He married Grace Newton. He moved to Prince William County about 1728. It is often reported that he had eight children, but there is no proof of this. There is a record of two children (William and Ann) in a claim for their education in Westmoreland County.*

CHILDREN:

1. William (b. ca. 1732* d. ——)
2. Ann

4. Capt. Edward Wiatt (b. 1677, d. 1744/45). He was the fourth son of Conquest Wiatt and Sallie Pate. Capt. Edward owned land in Prince William County, Virginia but lived in Gloucester. He married Frances Newton, daughter of John Newton and Mary Allerton. It is also possible that he married Margaret (Cook) Buchanan. Edward was a Captain in the Colonial Militia and was elected Vestryman of Petsworth Parish from June 8, 1739 until his death in 1744/45.

CHILDREN:

1. William (b. 1707, d. 1774) married first Letice Nichols and second, in 1730, Martha Gains
2. John (b. 1709/10, d. 1768)
3. Elizabeth (b. 1717, d. ——) married John Coke
4. Ann (b. 1716, d. ——) married Thomas Shirley
5. Conquest (b. 1717, d. ——) married Agnes Grigsby
6. Edward, Jr.
7. Sarah (?) married Richard Cate.

5. Capt. John Wiatt (b. 1683, d. 1763). He was the fifth son of Conquest Wiatt and Sallie Pate. His wife and children are very difficult to trace. Capt. John was a vestryman of Petsworth Parish.

CHILDREN:

1. John (b. 1720, d. ——) married in 1745 Martha
2. Conquest (b. 1724, d. ——)

* Letter dated February 14, 1741 from Margaret Wiatt, widow of James, to Richard Wiat, grandson of Sir Francis Wyatt in which she reports the death of her husband, who left a son and a daughter, the elder being only 8.

 Letter dated July 7, 1745 Conquest reports the death of his brothers Edward and James to Richard Wiat in Kent, England.

The descendants of Frances Newton and Edward Wyatt are eligible for membership in the Society of Mayflower Descendants. Frances was a daughter of Mary Allerton and John Newton. Mary Allerton was a daughter of Isaac Allerton, Jr. and Elizabeth Willoughby. Isaac Allerton, Jr. was the son of Isaac Allerton and Fear Brewster. Fear Brewster was a daughter of Wm. Brewster of the Mayflower.

4. Elizabeth (b. 1730, d. 1803) married Samuel Blackwell and in 1753 married Cornelius Collier.

It can easily be seen that each of Conquest Wiatt's five known sons could have had a son named John, any one of whom could have been the father of our John Wiatt, Jr. (1732-1805). Note: Francis' son John died without issue, Conquest's son Conquest had a son John born 1704. If he remained in Gloucester he could have been our John Wiatt, Sr. If James had eight children, surely one of them could have been John, but I believe as demonstrated earlier he had only one son, William. Capt. Edward had a son named John who was born ca. 1709/10. This John could easily have been our John and this would explain the family tradition about the middle name of John Wiatt, Jr. being Edward. Capt. John Wiatt is also believed to have had a son John born about 1720 and marrying in 1745 Martha. This John could have been too young to be our John Sr.

From the available facts it would appear that only Conquest II or Capt. Edward Wiatt could have been the father of our John Wiatt, Sr.

IDENTIFICATION NUMBERING

Before tracing the descendants of John Wiatt, Jr. (1732-1805), I must explain the identification numbering I have used to keep track of each member of the family. Above the paragraph of each descendant is a number. The numbers begin with John as Number 1. Accordingly, the first digit (No. 1) in each individual's number stands for John and each successive digit for each successive generation. The number identifies the numerical order of the children of the preceding ancestor. In families of ten or more children, 'a' denotes the tenth child, 'b' denotes the eleventh and so on. I have used decimal points only as spacers to group three generations and to make the following of the larger numbers a bit easier.

For example, my number is 122.361.1. This number indicates that I am a member of the seventh generation (seven digits) from John and that I am the first child of 122.361 (George Campbell Wiatt), who is the first child of 122.36 (Alexander Todd Wiatt), who was the sixth child of 122.3 (Alexander Taliaferro Wiatt), who was the third child of 122 (Dr. William Graham Wiatt), who was the second child of 12 (Dr. William Edward Wiatt), who was the second child of John Wiatt, Jr. (1732-1805).

CAPTAIN JOHN WIATT, Jr. of Gloucester County, Virginia, was born May 15, 1732 O.S.* and died January 5, 1805. He was a merchant in Gloucester and Prince William Counties where he went to live in 1767, as he stated in his suit "Wiatt vs Buckner." The date of his return to Gloucester is unknown. He must have lived in Prince William County for at least 30 years because after the death of Dr. John Graham in 1796, John Wiatt held land in trust in Prince William County for Elizabeth Graham and her children, including Mary. Mary was the wife of John's son William Edward Wiatt. John Wiatt's military record shows that during the Revolutionary War he joined Capt. Jonathan Clark's company of the 8th Regiment of Virginia Forces of Foot commanded by Col. Abraham Bowman at Valley Forge on May 14, 1778. His pay was $6.67 a month. John Wiatt remained in Capt. Clark's Company until June 1778, when he transferred to Capt. Abraham Kirkpatrick's Company of the 4th, 8th and 12th Virginia Regiments of Foot commanded by Col. James Wood at Camp Paramus. He is found on company muster and payrolls in Capt. Kirkpatrick's Company at Camps Paramus, White Plains and Robinson's Farm. In October 1778 John Wiatt shows up in Lt. Col. Robert Ballard's Company of the 4th Virginia Regiment of Foot commanded by Col. John Nevill at Middlebrook and remains on the company muster and payrolls until he was given a furlough to Virginia in December 1778 until April 15, 1779. He did not return to the above companies and was supposed later to have been in the command of General Scott "to the South." The records do not mention him again even though the end of the war was nearly two years away. It is believed that his title "Captain" refers to his rank in the Virginia Militia. John's full name is believed by many family members to have been John Edward Wiatt, Jr.

vember 9, 1794. According to a copy of the Toddsbury Bible, which I have been unable to locate, Capt. John and Mary Todd Wiatt had the following children.

CHILDREN:

1. Mary Wiatt, b. 1759, probably died young, and
2. William Edward Wiatt, (b. Oct. 17, 1762, d. Dec. 26, 1802).

There may have been other children and I believe that the Thomas Wiatt who was born about 1760 and married Caroline Robinson may have also been their child, but as yet neither we nor Thomas's descendants can prove it. I have included a brief outline of their family in the appendix because I know they must be closely related.

DR. WILLIAM EDWARD WIATT was born on Oct. 17, 1762 in Gloucester County, Virginia and died Dec. 26, 1802. He was also Master of Botetourt Lodge No. 7 of Ancient and Free and Accepted Masons.

JOHN TODD COCKE WIATT was born about 1781, the first son of Dr. William Edward Wiatt and Mary Graham. John married Cecilia Dabney and was in Wake County, North Carolina by 1816 when he purchased land from William Harris. In the 1820 tax list of Wake County, both John T. C. Wiatt and his brother Haute C. Wiatt are listed in the Raleigh District. In the 1850 census of Wake County (Wyten Division) is listed John T. C. Wiatt, age 68, a Marshall born in Virginia, with wife Cecilia Wiatt, age 61, born in North Carolina, and William E. Foster, age 7, living with them. There is an indenture dated Feb. 17, 1851 between Thomas L. West and Cecilia Wiatt and Mary Eleanor Wiatt, both of Wake County for the life of Cecilia then to Mary Eleanor Wiatt. John died 1850/51 in Wake County, North Carolina.

MARRIED: 1816 in Wake County, North Carolina
CECILIA DABNEY
CHILDREN:

1. Mary Eleanor Wiatt who married Mr. Foster of Mathews.

I believe the boy, William E. Foster (mentioned above) born ca. 1843, was a grandson of John T. C. Wiatt, but I have been unable to trace this branch further.

DR. WILLIAM GRAHAM WIATT, born January 31, 1784 in Maryland, died June 26, 1854. Dr. William Graham Wiatt was the second son of Dr. William Edward and Mary Graham Wiatt. He was with the Surgeons Department of the 21st Regiment in the War of 1812 as a Surgeon's assistant. I believe he did not actually attend medical school but rather did some sort of internship under his father or his grandfather, Dr. John Graham. The records he kept in his medical ledger are not nearly as well written as those of his father. He was practicing medicine as early as 1812 in Gloucester County. Dr. William Graham was buried in the Wiatt family cemetery at "Independence," Gloucester County, Virginia.

MARRIED: March 1821
LOUISA CAMPBELL STUBBS b. ——, her death is recorded in the Religious Herald, November 8, 1841. Louisa Campbell Stubbs was the daughter of Captain John Segar and Hannah Montague Stubbs.

I have been told by my grandfather that Dr. William and Louisa Campbell Stubbs Wiatt had several daughters who did not live to maturity. One daughter, he thought, died as a teenager after going out into the night air after a dance. The 1850 census of Gloucester shows William Graham Wiatt's family of six, one of whom was a girl between 5 and 10 years of age.

1. William Edward Wiatt (b. July 31, 1826, d. Feb. 14, 1918)

Col. Thomas Todd Wiatt was the son of Dr. William Edward and Mary Graham Wiatt.

On August 3, 1857 when Botetourt Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons was reorganized, Thomas T. Wiatt was made an honorary member because he was the only surviving member of the old Lodge living in Gloucester, having been raised September 6, 1808. The Botetourt Lodge No. 7 was active from 1757 until 1820 and remained dormant from 1820 until 1857.

Col. Thomas Todd Wiatt was a partner of William Patterson Smith (1796-1870), son of Armistead Smith and Martha Tabb, in a mercantile firm in Welden, North Carolina and Rock Landing, Virginia. Thomas Todd Wiatt was buried with Masonic rights at the family cemetery, Independence, Gloucester County, Virginia.

MAJOR HAUTE C. WIATT, (b. ——, d. ——), son of Dr. William Edward and Mary Graham Wiatt. Little is known about Haute except that he never married. In 1850 he was living with his older brother John T. C. Wiatt in Wake County, N. C. He was back in Gloucester by the time of the War Between the States. Family tradition says that he died of an overdose of an opiate in 1861.

THE REVEREND WILLIAM EDWARD WIATT was born at Independence, Gloucester County, Virginia, on July 31, 1826. He was the son of Louisa Campbell Stubbs and Dr. William Graham

Wiatt. He attended Newington School in Gloucester and Freewood Academy in King and Queen County. In 1847 he was licensed to preach at Olivet Church, King and Queen County. In 1849 he moved to Kentucky and taught school at Little Plymouth, The Exchange near Covington. Later in 1849 The Rev. William Edward Wiatt moved to Alabama and taught school in Lownds County for five years. In 1856, he moved from Alabama to Virginia and became Pastor of Providence and Union Baptist Churches, preaching at each church twice monthly. In the spring of 1861 he resigned the pastorate of these two churches to enter the Confederate Army. In the Confederate Army he was chaplain of the 26th Virginia Infantry and was known as the Fighting Chaplain. In his position as chaplain he rendered invaluable services of many kinds. He witnessed great revivals in camp, baptized many soldiers, wrote letters for soldiers, comforted the dying, shared their dangers, hardships, and privations, and ministered to them in every way as far as he was able. On April 9, 1865, he surrendered with his company at Appomattox. While he was in the Army his family had moved to Alabama. In April 1865 he returned to Gloucester to witness great destruction, distress, and disorder. He sold his home to pay off his debts and accepted the pastorate at Union Baptist Church. At the same time he taught school near Bena Post Office in Guinea. In 1866 he was appointed County Surveyor, a position which he filled for eleven years. The Virginia Legislature of 1869 passed the act creating public schools and in 1870 The Rev. William Edward Wiatt was appointed Superintendent of Schools in Gloucester County. He served for seven years. In 1874 he was called to the pastorate of Providence Baptist Church, where he served until 1880. He then accepted the pastorate of Newington Baptist Church. In 1887 The Rev. Mr. Wiatt was appointed State Missionary in the Mountains. He moved to Giles County, where he preached for seventeen months. He returned to Gloucester and accepted the pastorate of Newington, Beulah, and Petsworth Churches, where he served until 1910.

On March 28, 1905, he wrote . . . "to sum up my labors in the ministry for fifty years, I will say I have preached, I suppose 2,500 sermons, baptized 600 persons, married 360 couples, traveled 50,000 to 75,000 miles, been instrumental in building six houses of worship, organized many temperance societies and distributed many thousands of religious papers and tracts." The Rev. Mr. Wiatt died Feb. 14, 1918, in his 92nd year, and was buried at Newington Baptist Church, Gloucester County.

AMERICUS VESPUCCI WIATT, born in 1833, probably at Independence, Gloucester County, Virginia, was the second son of Louisa Campbell Stubbs and Dr. William Graham Wiatt. When the War Between the States broke out, he was living in Lancaster County, where he joined the Lancaster Cavalry in the spring of 1861. (Co. D of the 9th Virginia Cavalry). He had been a sea captain for several years prior to the war and was soon transferred to the Navy and commissioned a Master (Lieutenant, Junior Grade). He was supervising the building of a gunboat at West Point when the evacuation of Yorktown took place. In the spring of 1864 he reported for duty as a lieutenant and was assigned to the CSS NORTH CAROLINA, which was an ironclad ram similar to the VIRGINIA. Later he was second in command of the CSS RALEIGH, another ironclad ship. Unfortunately, the RALEIGH ran aground on a sandbar off Fort Fisher and was lost. The officers, including Americus V. Wiatt, were court martialed for her loss, but were acquitted. Thereafter he served on the CSS TALLAHASSEE and was in command of the gunboat CSS BEAUFORD when Richmond was evacuated. On April 2, 1865 he destroyed the BEAUFORD, marched away with the Naval Brigade, and was captured by the Federal Forces near Saylers Creek. Americus Vespucci Wiatt died in Baltimore, Maryland in April 1870 and was buried beside his first wife at the Wiatt Cemetery, Independence, Gloucester County, Virginia.

ALEXANDER TALIAFERRO WIATT was born in Gloucester County, Virginia on March 7, 1840, the son of Louisa Campbell Stubbs and Dr. William Graham Wiatt. He received his preparatory education at Ridgeway Academy and attended the University of Virginia. He was teaching school in Heathville in Lancaster County when the War Between the States began. At 21 years of age he joined the Lancaster County Cavalry, Company D of the 9th Virginia Cavalry. His company was attached to a regiment commanded by Major General W. H. F. Lee. His Confederate service record is extremely unusual for his unbroken attendance. The record shows he enlisted on October 16, 1861 for one year at Camp Lewis, which was probably in Northern Virginia. He reenlisted for the war in the spring of 1862. It is truly remarkable that his record shows that for those four long years of war he suffered neither wounds nor sickness of any disabling kind. No record exists in his file to indicate that he was ever promoted, but family tradition says he attained the rank of sergeant before the war was over.

On July 1, 1879 he was appointed County Surveyor to succeed his brother, the Rev. William Edward Wiatt. He held this office until May 27, 1896, at which time he was appointed Clerk of Court of Gloucester County.

On November 16, 1916 he became the first president of the Bank of Gloucester and remained so until January 16, 1919. He was a member of the first Draft Board in Gloucester County and was a member of the Botetourt Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons for more than 48 years, serving as master, secretary, and treasurer. LUCY TALIAFERRO JONES was born on March 12, 1820 at Concord, Gloucester County, Virginia, daughter of Eliza Maria Wiatt and Walker Jones. She died August 19, 1855.
MARRIED: August 8, 1845.
MAJOR CHARLES WORTLEY MONTAGUE was born in Henrico County, Virginia, on May 27, 1820, son of Sarah Mynn Hughes and Captain William Montague. He joined the Confederate service in May 1861 by forming a company of artillery as a captain. Large guns being scarce, the company was made one of infantry. He soon resigned his position and was made a major and aide to Col. Crump. On the day of the battle of Seven Pines he resigned that position and fought as an independent in his brother's company. Afterward he joined General Fitzhugh Lee's Cavalry and fought through many hard battles. It was his delight to lead in a charge. He was captured once, but was liberated very soon through the influence of Masonic brothers. Soon after his capture, his family was so informed by a Union officer who was a Mason. He stated that Charles W. Montague would soon be back home and that he would see that the family was protected. The Montagues were not molested. Charles W. Montague surrendered with General Robert E. Lee at Appomattox. He was a graduate of William and Mary

LT. COL. JOSEPH V. SCOTT was born about 1822 probably in Petersburg, Virginia, son of Eleanor Wiatt and Col. Thomas Scott of Petersburg. The Confederate service record of Lt. Col. Joseph V. Scott is very skimpy. It shows he was 39 years old when his "Cockade Rifles" Company was mustered into Confederate service at Petersburg on April 20, 1861 as Company E, 3rd Virginia Infantry Regiment. Scott remained at the head of the company until Nov. 6, 1861 when he was promoted to Major and assigned the regiment proper on April 27, 1862. He was promoted to Lt. Col. and assigned as second-in-command of the 3rd Virginia Regiment. However, on June 30, 1862 he was killed in action at the battle of Malvern Hill near the end of the Seven Days Campaign, east of Richmond. I do not think he left any dependents. He was listed in the 1860 census of Petersburg as living alone.

CHARLES SCOTT is a little difficult to trace. He is listed in the 1860 Norfolk City directory as boarding at 79 W. Main Street and working at Cordry & De Bree Apothecary, 18 E. Main Street. He married a Miss Lightfoot. He may have living descendants today.

122.12

WILLIAM GRAHAM WIATT was born at the residence of Dr. William Graham Wiatt, Independence, Gloucester County, Virginia on Nov. 28, 1848, son of Catherine Rebecca Spencer and the Rev. William Edward Wiatt. Cousin Willie, as my grandparents called him, left home with the Federal Troops stationed at Yorktown when he was 16. I believe he had had some altercation with his stepmother. As far as the family knew, Willie just disappeared. No one remembered even seeing mail come or go to him, yet in his father's will Willie is mentioned as living in Concordia, Kansas. After his father's death at nearly 92, Willie returned to Gloucester and moved in with the family of his half-sister and her husband, Laura Campbell Wiatt and George Booth Field. He was in his early seventies and reportedly did not know how he had gotten there or where he was from. There was a picture of three children, two boys and a girl, among his effects. The picture had "Newton, Kansas" written on the back. It is believed he married twice in Kansas and named one of his sons William Edward Wiatt. He admitted himself to Eastern State Hospital in Williamsburg, Virginia, where he died in 1923. He was buried in an unmarked grave in the Field family plot at Newington Baptist Church. All attempts to locate living descendants of cousin Willie have been fruitless.

RELATIONSHIPS

In using the Relationship Chart you will note in the upper left hand corner the common progenitor (CP). This is the person who is the head of the two lines of descendants. The vertical columns and horizontal rows are his direct descendants. His sons or daughters are denoted by the letter 'S,' his grandsons or granddaughters by 'GS,' his greatgrandchild by 'GGS' and so on down to the eighth grandchild. The letters inside the table show the relationship between the Common progenitor's descendants. By following the columns and rows to where they cross one can determine the relationship between the descendants of the CP at the heads of the given column and row. For example, by following the first vertical column and first horizontal row one sees they cross at a letter 'B,' showing that sons or daughters of a CP are brother(s) and/or sister(s). The second column and second row cross at '1C' indicating they are first cousins.

Most people have little difficulty figuring out these relationships. It is cousinship and times removed that presents some difficulty. This chart should make it easier. Suppose you wish to determine your relationship to a distant cousin. You are eight generations removed from the common progenitor and your cousin is six generations removed. To figure your exact relationship simply follow the eighth column and sixth row until they cross. You will find they cross at '5C2R,' indicating you are fifth cousins twice removed.

THE MONTAGUE FAMILY

Peter Montague (b. 1602/03, d. 1659) came to Virginia in the CHARLES, 1621, and was listed among Captain Samuel Mathews' men at James City, 1624/25. His first land grant of record lay in the area which became Nansemond County, 1642. He was also assigned a second patent, granted him December 18, 1645, for 150 acres in the same area "on the New Town River" to John Thomas, who repatented the land November 19, 1645. Two years later, November 3, 1647, he was granted 100 acres in Nansemond County, on the "North side of the New Town Haven River." Peter Montague represented Nansemond in the House of Burgesses, 1652 and 1653, but evidently following this service immigrated to the Northern Neck where a number of Nansemond planters had gone to take up land following peace with the Indians effected 1645. On February 4, 1656 he is recorded as Commissioner for Lancaster County, and by January 16, 1658 he was in possession of 200 acres in that county on the south side of the Rappahannock River adjacent to Randall Chamley and Oliver Seager. He was a Burgess for Lancaster, 1657-58 and his name was presented to the General Court, September 29, 1658, for appointment to the office of Sheriff. Peter Montague married secondly Cicely ————, and they had the following children:

1. Peter Montague (b. ca. 1638, d. before 1695) married Mary Doodes (b. ——, d. before 1695)
2. William Montague (b. 1638(?), d. Dec. 7, 1713) married — wife's name unknown
3. Anne Montague (b. ——, d. before 1659)
   married John Jadwyn
4. Ellen (b. ——, d. ——)
   married Will Thompson
5.
6. Margaret Montague
7. Elizabeth Montague

William Montague shared with his elder brother in his father's estate and probably lived also on "Montagues' Island." He is mentioned in a deed, Dec. 30, 1703, in which "William Montague, son of William Montague, Sr. of Middlesex County" conveys land to "William Montague, son of Peter Montague, late of Middlesex County deceased." His wife's name is unknown. His will dated October 5, 1713, probated June 1717, names the following children:

1. William Montague (b. ca. 1673, d. 1733)
   married Elizabeth
2. Thomas Montague married Mrs. Katherine (nee Williamson) Young

William Montague (b. ca. 1673, d. 1733) married Elizabeth ———— and lived in Essex County, where his will dated March 31, 1733, recorded June 19, 1733, names his son:

1. William Montague (b. ca. 1707, d. ——)

William Montague (b. ca. 1707, d. ——) married October 16, 1727 before he was of age, Hannah, daughter of Richard Ball of Lancaster County and second cousin of General George Washington.

CHILDREN:

Cpt. William Montague (b. ca. 1782, d. Sept. 1784)
married Jan. 27, 1749 Hannah Ballendine
Child: Hannah Montague married first Thacker Campbell and second John Segar Stubbs

Appendix 3

THE JONES FAMILY

The progenitor of the Jones family in America was Captain Roger Jones, who was born, ca. 1625-35. His first wife was Dorothy Walker, a daughter of John Walker, Esq. of Mansfield, County of Nottingham, England. He also married secondly, but it appears that they did not have issue. Tradition has it that his family were Cavaliers and that he had a Captain's commission in the army of King Charles II. He came to the Colony of Virginia in the company with Lord Culpeper, when Lord Culpeper came over in 1680 to take charge of the colony as Governor. In the Calendar of State Papers, published by Dr. Wm. P. Palmer, is a very bitter petition which was presented to the mother Government by the Colonists in 1692 against one "Capt. Roger Jones." In this petition Jones is referred to as a soldier who came to the colony with Lord Culpeper, and he is charged with having "declared his disafection to yr majys before leaving this country and by refusing to serve in any office or take the usuall (sic) oaths." As their majesties were William and Mary his refusal to take the usual oaths was to renounce the House of Stuart and swear allegiance to the House of Orange: but there is other evidence of his attachment to the former House. The alleged cause for the presentation of this petition is that several persons residing in the city of London, among them this Capt. Jones, had circulated opinions to the effect that the acts of the colonial Assemblies were of no validity beyond a year from their date, unless the King's assent to the same had been previously obtained; and Capt. Jones is referred to as busiest and most dangerous of all those complained of. It charges that he was directed by Lord Culpeper to take a sloop of war and cruise in the Chesapeake Bay, to supress piracy and all unlawful trading, and that in violation of his orders he connived with and sheltered the pirates, and in this manner acquired the foundation of a great estate "which he gives out he is master of." Whether these charges were true or false can never, of course, be certainly known. They were evidently not accredited by Lord Culpeper, else there would be no account for the friendly esteem in which Jones's son was held by Lord Culpeper's widow. The colonists were not always just in their treatment of those who happened to incur their displeasure. It appears they had thought well enough of Capt. Jones to offer him offices which he in turn thought little enough of to decline. Capt. Roger Jones' residence in the Colony was temporary, and appears to have been so regarded by him from the first; for he did not attempt to identify himself with its elements, as he might have done to some extent, at least by accepting the offices offered him. Capt. Roger Jones is reputed to have owned considerable property and to have lived in handsome style in the old country, and, indeed it is not improbable that extravagant living there drove him to seek reparation of fortune in a new field, in which it is said he was successful. He died at his house in Stepney, then a suburb of London, in 1701, and was buried at Mansfield, as directed in his will. Roger and Dorothy (Walker) Jones had the following children:

1. Frederick Jones (b. ——, d. 1722) removed to Chowan, North Carolina; married before July 10, 1708 Jane ————
2. Thomas Jones (b. ——, d. 1758) married February 14, 1725, Elizabeth (Nee Cocke) Pratt

Thomas Jones, titled Colonel, married on February 14, 1725, Mrs. Elizabeth Pratt, widow of William Pratt, a merchant of Gloucester Co. Va., and the eldest daughter of Dr. William Cocke and his wife Elizabeth Catesby. Col. Thomas Jones died in Hanover County, Virginia in 1758, sometime prior to September 7 on which day his will was probated. His wife died in Northumberland Co., March 11, 1762. He took up and patented large bodies of land in Virginia in the period 1702 to 1731. There were granted to him, by patent in 1713, two thousand acres in King William County and also seven hundred and sixty-five acres in the same county. An order was made by the Council May 2, 1716, allowing him to take up and patent twenty-five thousand acres in Nansemond County, May 2, 1719; there was also an order for five thousand acres in Henrico County, June 15, 1726; a grant to him of six thousand acres in Hanover County, March 6, 1731; and an order for four thousand acres in Prince George County. Much of this land he no doubt sold again and the remainder he divided into plantations which he cultivated with his slaves, principally in tobacco.

Children of Thomas and Elizabeth (nee Cocke) Pratt Jones:

1. Col. Thomas Jones (b. Dec. 25, 1726, d. 1785/86) Hanover Co., Va.
   married Sally Shelton
2. Dorothea Jones (b. Feb. 2, 1727, d. 1780)

William Jones (b. October 25, 1734) went to sea before he was sixteen years old. He appears to have been an affable gentleman of good intelligence and sterling character and he held some official positions in the colony. About the year 1780 he purchased and removed to a farm in Petsworth Parish, Gloucester County which he called "Marlfield." William married in the spring of 1766, Lucy (nee Taliaferro) Carter, widow of Col. Charles Carter of Cleve. The first fifteen or twenty years of his married life he spent in the counties of Hanover and King William, where most of his children were born. Ann Carter, the only child of his wife by her first husband, married John Catlett, an eminent lawyer of King William County. The family was Episcopalian and worshiped at Petsworth Church. THE TODD FAMILY

Capt. Thomas Todd, of Baltimore County, Maryland and Gloucester County, Virginia was the progenitor of the Todd family in America. He was the son of Geoffrey and Margaret Todd of Denton in the County of Durham, England. He married Ann, daughter of the Rev. John and Anne (Lovelace) Gorsuch. Thomas Todd patented land in Elizabeth City County in 1647 and in Gloucester County in 1664. He appears in Maryland records August 17, 1644, describing himself as "now living in Gloucester Co., Virginia." His will dated February 21, 1675/76 proved May 30, 1677 shows that he owned considerable estates in the colonies and in England. The fact that he is often referred to as a merchant may possibly indicate that his title "Captain" was that of a Sea Captain rather than one of military significance. Capt. Thomas and Anne (Gorsuch) Todd had the following children:

1. Thomas, 2. Christopher, 3. James, 4. William, 5. Phillip, 6. Joanna, 7. Ann, 8. Francis, 9. Averilla.

Thomas Todd, born 1660 at Gloucester County, Virginia was the eldest son of Capt Thomas and Anna (Gorsuch) Todd. He married Elizabeth, daughter of Col. William Bernard. Although he retained possession of the estate in Maryland at North Point on the Patapsco there is no reason to believe that he actually lived in Maryland after his father's death. He was Justice of the Peace in Gloucester County from 1698 to 1702. His home was 'Toddsbury' on the North River, Gloucester County, Virginia. He died January 16, 1724/25 and was buried at Toddsbury. The children of Thomas and Elizabeth (Bernard) Todd were:

1. Thomas Todd (b. ca. 1681, d. 1715)
   married 1705 Elizabeth
2. Richard Todd (b. 1681-8, d. before 1723)
   married and had issue
3. William Todd (b. 1681-8, d. 1736-45) married ca. 1709, Martha Vicaris
4. Phillip Todd (b. 1681-8, d. before 1761) married (?)
5. Christopher Todd (b. April 2, 1690, d. March 26, 1745)
   married Elizabeth Mason
6. Ann Todd (b. Nov. 9, 1682, d. July 18, 1720) married ca. 1700, John Cook

7. Lucy Todd (b. 1681-8, d. ——)
   married first ———— O'Brien married second in 1698, John Baylor
8. Elizabeth Todd (b. ——, d. ——) married George Seaton married Augustine Nore
9. Francis Todd (b. April 12, 1692, d. Nov. 5, 1703)
10. ———— Todd, (b. ——, d. before Dec. 15, 1718)
    married Jonathan Hide
11. Frances Todd (b. 1709, d. July 25, 1745) married July 2, 1729, Robert North.

Capt. Christopher Todd, the inscription on his tombstone at Toddsbury refers to him as a Captain and states that he was born April 2, 1690 and died March 26, 1743. Very little is known about Christopher, but it would appear that he was the fifth and youngest son of Thomas and Elizabeth (Bernard) Todd. He married between January 20, 1718 and September 13, 1721, Elizabeth, daughter of Lemuel Mason of Norfolk County. It is not certain how many children they had, but it is known that they had at least three, as follows:

1. Thomas Todd (b. Nov. 1724, d. February 18, 1794)
   died without issue
2. Lucy Todd (b. ——, d. ——)
   married Edward Tabb
3. Mary Todd (b. ——, d. ——)

THE BALL FAMILY

Col. William Ball (d. 1680) was the founder of the Ball family in Virginia. He settled in Lancaster County, on the Corotoman, a branch of the Rappahannock River, in 1650, and named his home "Millenbeck." He is first spoken of as a merchant, as were many of the "gentlemen settlers" who came to Virginia for political reasons during the Cromwellian Period of England. Col. Ball is said to have reluctantly served in the Royal Army, and to have been in the battles of Naseby and Marston Moor. After the death of the King, Colonel Ball came to Virginia in the company of other Royalists and churchmen (Richard Lee, John Carter, Isaac Allerton, and John and Lawrence Washington). That Col. Ball was a churchman and a zealous supporter of the Church of England in Virginia is shown by the fact that he was a member of the committee appointed to arrange for the government and support of the church in Virginia.

Before coming to Virginia Colonel William Ball married Hannah Alteral (d. 1695) of Burght, Suffolk, England. The children of Col. William and Hannah Alteral Ball were as follows:

William Ball, Jr. born January 2, 1641 and died September 30, 1694, married first Miss Williamson and second Miss Harris of "Bay View" in Northumberland County. He had no children by his first two marriages. William Jr. married third Margaret, daughter of Raleigh Downman of "Morattico" in Lancaster County. William and Margaret (Downman) Ball, Jr. had nine children:

He was a member of the House of Burgesses from Lancaster County in 1654 and commander-in-chief of the forces sent against the Rappahannock Indians. Referring to the title "King," Bishop Mead said: "From the fact that such a title was bestowed on him, the idea has become prevalent in Virginia that he was not only of princely possessions, having numerous tenants and servants, and a splendid place for his residence, but that, as a consequence of this, he was authoritative, lordly and arbitrary in his bearing and conduct, moving as a king in the colony." King Carter married first, in 1688, Judith Armistead, who was the eldest daughter of John Armistead and his wife Judith, of "Grednal" in Hereford County, England. FIELD FAMILY

The Field Family has been in Virginia for a long time, so long in fact that no one seems to know the progenitor of our branch of that family. We do know the following:

Stephen Field of King and Queen County married January 16, 1717/18 Susannah Churchill Jones, who was baptized August 14, 1700. They were the parents of Roger Jones Field, who was the father of Stephen Field.

STEPHEN FIELD, (b. ——, d. April 3, 1798), married Anne Buckner Booth. Stephen Field was of King and Queen County; he belonged to the Vestry Stratton and was Mayor in 1783. He purchased Cappohasic House in Gloucester County, Virginia in 1788 and Mulbery Hall in 1787.

Appendix 9

OTHER VIRGINIA WIATTS

I believe all the Wiatt Families in the United States originated in Gloucester County, Virginia, and are descendants of Conquest Wiatt. In attempting to prove or disprove this theory I have located 3 other major Wiatt Families. There may be other Wiatt lines in the U.S.A. (I understand there were 300 Wiatt families in this country in 1970), but these three are the only ones that I am able to discuss at this time. I choose to call the different Wiatt families groups the Julian-Wiatts, the Turner-Wiatts, and the Frank Wiatts for reasons which will become apparent. It is amusing to note that the "Frank Wiatts" refer to our branch of the family as the "William Wiatts." I have also included some miscellaneous Wiatt data, especially on the Peter Wiatts of Gloucester County, Virginia.

JULIAN - WIATTS

The Julian Wiatts are well traced and provable. They are descendants of Conquest and Sallie Pate Wiatt's first son, Francis. Unfortunately the only descendants of this branch that I am able to locate are the descendants of Francis' grandson William Wiatt, Jr. and his wife Catherine Julian, which explains why I call them the Julian-Wiatts. There are two reasons why so much is known about this line. First, this is the line that attempted to claim the Boxely Estate after the death of Sir Francis Wyatt's grandson in 1753. Secondly, the Bible records of William Wiatt, Jr. and Catherine Julian are extant. Refer to the monograph of Francis Wiatt and his children on page 18. FRANCIS WIATT (b. 1670/71, d. 1731) died in Gloucester County, Virginia. Son of Conquest Wiatt and Sallie Pate. Francis married Elizabeth Kennon (?).

TURNER - WIATTS

This branch of the family believes their Wiatt ancestory to be: Conquest, Conquest II, Conquest III, John. They have the same problem proving their line as we have with ours. The following outline is based on work done by Miss Helen Ashby Turner, dated 1938-1940, and Thomas Philip Smith, dated 1952. JOHN WIATT (b. ca. 1765, d. Feb. 9, 1836) married in Frederick County, Virginia, April 16, 1795, Anna Turner (b. ca. 1770) daughter of Capt. THE FRANK WIATTS

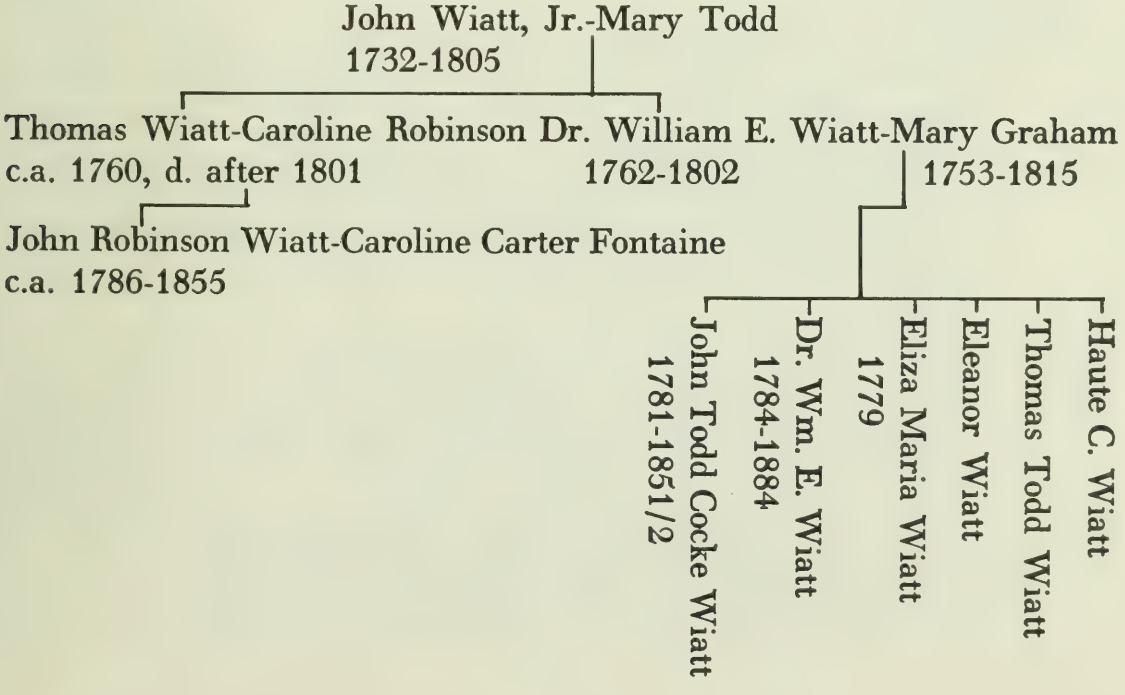
This branch of the Virginia Wiatt Family has always been of interest to me because they lived very near our branch in Gloucester County for more than 250 years yet were not closely related through the Wiatts. They refer to our branch as the William Wiatts, and we have always referred to them as the Frank Wiatts. Their branch of the family has the same problem with their ancestry as we have. They trace their ancestry to a John Wiatt, Jr., born between 1730 and 1740 in Gloucester County and died after 1795. They believe their John Wiatt married a Mary whose last name may have been Figg. Dr. and Mrs. William Carter Stubbs in their book, Descendants of Mordecahi Cook and Thomas Booth, give John Wiatt's ancestry as John, Jr., son of Capt. John, son of Conquest II, son of Conquest I. There is, of course, no proof of this and the Frank Wiatts I have talked to do not subscribe to it.

It is interesting to note that their John Wiatt closely parallels our John Wiatt, who was born in 1732, died in 1805, and married Mary Todd. The few surviving records of Gloucester County cannot support two different John Wiatts, Jr. during this time. They do not disprove it either. I believe the two John Wiatts may have been one and the same but have not discussed it with the Frank Wiatts. If they were the same man, then Thomas Wiatt (b. ca. 1760) of the Frank Wiatt Branch would have been a brother of our Dr. William Edward Wiatt b. 1762. The Tree would look as follows . . . .



JOHN WIATT (b. ca. 1730-40) in Gloucester County, Virginia and died in Gloucester after 1795, married Mary (probably Figg) who died after 1795.

SECOND GENERATION

THOMAS WIATT was born ca. 1760 in Gloucester County, Virginia and died in Gloucester after 1801. He married Caroline Robinson (b. 1765-70) in Middlesex Co., Virginia on July 2, 1785.

PETER WIATTS

This group of Wiatts probably should be called miscellanous Wiatts, for they are not all Peters and I cannot prove they are related. They are Wiatts of Gloucester County, Virginia and contiguous counties that do not fit into the other Wiatt family lines I have traced.

Peter Wiatt, vestry of Petsworth Parish in 1763, was probably a son or grandson of Conquest Wiatt I.

Peter Wiatt of Oakley, Gloucester County, (b. 1768, d. 1815) married Frances Booth (b. ca. 1770, d. Feb. 13, 1817). Both are buried at Oakley.

James Wiatt, brother of the above Peter, had two sons: (1) James C. Wiatt of Oakley (d. 1821), vestry Petsworth Parish in 1787. He married in 1819, Isabella L. Fauntelroy. He was a member of the House of Delegates in 1819 and 1822. He sold Oakley to Thomas Baylif as trustee for Gregory Morris. His only child, Francis L., had for a guardian Augustine Dabney in 1821. (2) Peter Wiatt of Upton (b. 1799, d. Sept. 28, 1824) buried at Upton. Peter married Cordelia Muse (?) and had issue: 1. Thomas Muse Wiatt (d. 1886) and Mrs. Sears, the mother of Charles, who married Miss Fauntelroy.

The medical ledgers of Dr. William Edward Wiatt of Gloucester County, Virginia list 4 Wiatts that were his patients: (1) Mr. James Wiatt from Aug. 25, 1790 to Nov. 28, 1793, also included were visits to "Miss Salley" and "your daughter." (2) Mr. John Wiatt, from Nov. 29, 1791 to Dec. 23, 1793, (3) Mr. Peter Wiatt from Jan. 5, 1793 to Oct. 12, 1793. (4) Mrs. Sarah Wiatt from Sept. 25, 1793 to Nov. 26, 1793.

The medical ledger of Dr. William Graham Wiatt shows one Wiatt patient: Mr. James C. Wiatt, from July 27, 1818 to Dec. 5, 1823.

Peter Wiatt had a fire insurance policy on his home, Oakley, in Gloucester County for $3050. It was dated Sept. 10, 1805 and was reappraised in 1815. The property situated between Christopher Garland on the East and Matthew Kemp on the West.

Peter Wiatt appraised Kempsville for insurance purposes in 1805. The property was adjacent to his own.

Peter Wiatt was guardian of Mary E. Booth, Frances A. Booth, and Lucy Ann Booth, infants and daughters of George W. and Lucy B. Booth.

Peter Wiatt married Sarah Billups Jan. 30, 1756, in Kingston Parish.

Peter Wiatt and his wife were both between 26 and 46 in the 1810 census of Gloucester. They had no children at the time.

James Wiatt was between 26 and 45, and his wife was between 16 and 26, and they had a son under 5 in the 1810 census of Gloucester.

Peter Wiatt married October 2, 1790, Josie Shepherd of King and Queen County, Christ Church Parish, Middlesex County.

John Wiatt married Dec. 24, 1783, Mary Harwood Currill in Lancaster County, Va.

James Wiatt married Oct. 10, 1798, Fanny Curtis, Christ Church Parish, Middlesex County.

Peter Wiatt (b. ca. 1821) is listed in the 1850 census of Gloucester Co. with his family, which includes Ann E., b. ca. 1821, Maria E., b. ca. 1843, James, b. ca. 1845, and Nancy, b. ca. 1848. Also living in the house are Wm. Sheppard, b. ca. 1844, and John Figg, b. ca. 1848.

George Wiatt, b. ca. 1806, is listed in the 1850 Gloucester Census. He has a wife, Sarah, b. ca. 1822, and children Mary, b. ca. 1838, and Francis, b. ca. 1842.

Maria Elizabeth Wiatt, daughter of Peter and Nancy Drisgall Wiatt was born March 27, 1842, d. Nov. —, 1924, married Gregory Kemp and were the parents of Lee Kemp.

There are other Wiatts in Virginia and the United States but I am unable at this time to tell how they fit into the big picture. I hope that some of these problems can be solved in the near future.
